

LEGISLATORS OF DISTRICT SPOKE HERE FRIDAY EVE

Representatives Henry Allen and Dennis J. Collins talked

Numerous other attractions detracted from the attendance last evening at the meeting of the Dixon Township Tax Payers league which was held in the city hall. Representative Dennis J. Collins of DeKalb and Henry Allen of Lyndon were the principal speakers and in addition to their messages, answered many questions which related to reduced taxation throughout the state. President W. F. Aydelotte of this city presided as chairman of the meeting and conducted discussions before and after the program.

Public officials are not altogether to blame for the present tax conditions, Representative Collins told his listeners at the opening of his remarks, and called attention to the ordinary citizen who casts his vote for big bond issues in the cities to carry out immense local improvement projects in face of the conditions and reduced incomes.

"Public officials are not to blame for this world wide economic depression," the legislator repeated, "we have had them before and have come through and at the present time we are on the road to recovery from it." He said it has been beneficial in some respects in that it has taught us not to proceed and spend the taxpayers' money lavishly, corruptly and foolishly. It is necessary that the taxpayer be given our first consideration, he said, and that we have no income at this time. It is necessary that we face these facts honestly and truthfully.

Organization Little Late
These same conditions are found to exist in the spending of the public's monies. This tax payers organization, as I view it, is a little late in its efforts, but better late than never. If an organization such as this with its principles, its investigations and its interest in the expenditures of public funds had existed ten years ago, some of this present tax burden would undoubtedly have been lifted. What is needed in Illinois today is a new and broader taxing system which will remove the heavy part of the burden from the shoulders of the farmer, the real estate owner and the home owner. A low sales tax such as has been tried and found very successful in the state of Mississippi would, I believe, prove a great help towards equalizing the distribution of the present tax burden. It at least is one method of securing taxes from every individual who should pay taxes.

Representative Henry Allen of Lyndon was introduced and asked to explain the sales tax bill. In his brief remarks he said:

Benefit of Depression
"Ten years ago, our citizens were not interested in taxation. The question then did not arise in the least. Many benefits have come out of this depression and this is one of them. I believe that the average citizen of today knows more about his system of government and has made a deeper study of governmental affairs than in many years.

"The Illinois taxing system needs to be readjusted and to be revised now. Many benefits have come out of this depression and this is one of them. I believe that the average citizen of today knows more about his system of government and has made a deeper study of governmental affairs than in many years.

"We cannot hope to reduce taxes in a great way at once. I do not believe that a reduction of to exceed 25 per cent can be made at the outside, because the need for taxes is mortgaged for the future. It is possible that a greater reduction could be effected, but as in the case of your schools, such a drastic reduction might injure the service you are now receiving. In my opinion, a taxing system that is confiscatory is wrong and is a poor business policy. Probably there is no fairer system than the income tax plan. The public in general is rather opposed to the sales tax, which was never seriously considered in committee by the legislature. I believe, however, that the sales tax method is the most painless way of paying taxes and is altogether a good principle of taxation. No one can escape it."

In reply to an inquiry which pertained to the reduction of salaries of public officers, Representative Allen said:

"Any public official has no right to resent the application for information in his office or department with a view to reducing expenses and taxation. The County Judges Association of this state lobbied strongly against just such a thing in Springfield and seriously objected to a reduction of salaries throughout the state."

Polo Man Injured In Fall Yesterday

(Telegraph Special Service)
Polo, Aug. 13.—Percy Llewellyn, service station attendant, sustained painful injuries in a most unusual manner yesterday afternoon. He was seated on a horse at the service station, when in some manner, he slipped and fell and the horse fell on him. He suffered a fracture of a small bone between the knee and ankle of his left leg and the foot was badly crushed. He was given treatment locally and removed to St. Francis hospital at Freeport.

AVIATOR DENIES HE MIGHT HAVE MURDERED CLARK

British Flier Shouts His Answers From Stand In Trial Today

Miami, Fla., Aug. 13.—(AP)—A denial he told the mother of Haden Clarke, for whose slaying he is on trial, he was so confused on the night of the shooting that he sometimes thought he killed her son was shouted from the witness stand today by Captain W. N. Lancaster, British aviator.

"Did you at any time after the shooting tell Mrs. Clarke you thought sometimes that you killed Haden?" State's Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne asked Lancaster.

"I did not. I never told her any such thing," Lancaster shouted.

The flier was called for further cross examination on the eleventh day of his trial.

Lancaster testified Clarke took his own life in a hangar suicide attempt by deciding that a recurring illness would prevent his marriage to Mrs. Keith-Miller.

Hawthorne today blocked attempts of counsel for Lancaster to show by evidence of physicians that Clarke took his own life.

Dr. M. H. Tallman, Dr. Donald F. Gove and Dr. Walter C. Jones, Jr., who performed an autopsy on Clarke's body, each testified the pistol that fatally wounded Clarke was pressed firmly against his head.

The state's objection was sustained when defense counsel James M. Carson asked the physicians if they could say whether Clarke committed suicide.

In each case, the witness said he could not make such a statement of his own scientific knowledge, but could only speak of probabilities.

KILLED ON WAY TO VISIT LEE CENTER FAMILY

Son-In-Law Of Jeanblanc Victim Of Tragedy Today

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Jeanblanc of Lee Center, were called to Springfield, Ill., at an early hour this morning by a message announcing that their son-in-law, Maurice Miller, athletic coach and instructor of French and Spanish at Houston, Tex., high school had been instantly killed in an automobile accident near the state capital. Details of the tragedy were not contained in the message received by the Lee Center family, who left for Springfield at once after its receipt, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lawrence, also of Lee Center.

The unfortunate man and his wife, who was formerly Miss Edith Jeanblanc, were en route to Lee Center to spend the remainder of Prof. Miller's vacation with his wife's parents. Whether Mrs. Miller was injured was not stated in the message received in Lee Center.

HITLER UPSETS PLAN FOR VICE-CHANCELLOR JOB

Announces Continued Opposition To Pres-Cabinet

Berlin, Aug. 13.—(AP)—President von Hindenburg talked for fifteen minutes this afternoon with Adolf Hitler, head of the National Socialist party, and announced after the conference that the present cabinet under Chancellor Franz von Papen will remain in office.

The first reaction of members of the Von Papen Cabinet was to follow the course of the Chancellor indicated in a recent interview to go before the new Reichstag when it assembles at the end of this month and dare the opposition to turn the government over.

In case of a vote of non-confidence, the next step would be to dissolve the Reichstag and to go as at present, governing without Parliament until things become calmer.

It was understood that Hitler has given his assurance that no illegal attempt would be made by the National Socialist party to seize the governing power.

Berlin, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler, fiery chieftain of the National Socialists, upset the plans of President von Hindenburg and the present government today by declining an offer of a Vice-Chancellorship in the new cabinet which is to be formed soon.

Hitler announced his decision to Chancellor Franz von Papen at a conference which began at 11:45 A. M. He informed the Chancellor that his policy would be one of determined opposition to the present government. He also declined an offer of the Ministry of the Interior for one of his party lieutenants.

Hitler declined the Prussian Premiership in combination with the post of Vice Chancellor, demanding instead that he be made Chancellor with absolute control of the cabinet.

An announcement that his audience with President von Hindenburg would be deferred until this afternoon was accompanied by a semi-official statement to the effect that this meeting "will now be a mere formality, since Herr Hitler already has announced his opposition to the cabinet."

Political observers did not think that the President would be able to change Hitler's mind.

Illinois Guardsmen Reviewed By Chief

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 13.—(AP)—The Illinois National Guard—8,500 strong—went on review before Governor Louis Emmerson today.

The Governor, Commander-in-Chief of the guard, returned salutes as the citizen-soldiers passed by the reviewing stand in annual maneuvers.

Marching snappily to blaring band music the Guardsmen showed the effects of their intensive training at Camp Grant. Scores of citizens flanked the stand to watch the parade.

In the reviewing stand with the Governor were Major General George E. Leach, Chief of the Military Bureau, Major General D. K. Keane, Division Commander; Brig. Gen. Frank C. Bolles, representing Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, Commander of the Sixth Corps Area; Lieut. Gen. Milton J. Foreman, retired, former Division Commander, and Brig. Gen. Carlos E. Black, Adjutant General of the Illinois troops.

The review over, soldiers of the division will be practically free from duty until Monday morning, for Sunday is Vicksburg day and only the guard and other necessary details will be at work.

WALKER'S CASE MAY BE DECIDED IN STATE COURT

Legal Questions Are Being Brought To Fore In Questioning

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 13.—(AP)—The courts, and not Governor Roosevelt may have the last word in the Walker case.

That the defense intends to turn to the courts if the Governor's decision is against Mayor Walker has been indicated by the legal exceptions taken to two of Roosevelt's rulings at the hearing in the executive chamber on the charges against the Mayor.

The defense has challenged the Governor's right to scrutinize the Mayor's first term and also his admission of Hofstadter committee findings as evidence. John J. Curtin, Walker's attorney, took exceptions yesterday on both these grounds.

There was no hint as to how such an appeal would be taken.

Legal steps to restrain the Governor from entertaining the Seabury charges against the Mayor or from ousting Walker already have been taken by George Donnelly, a home rule advocate, on the ground that the Governor has no authority to sit in judgment. It is based on the fact that the state Constitution does not say specifically that the Governor shall have the power to remove the Mayor of a city. The Constitution says merely that cities shall have the power to adopt local laws relating, among other things, to the "mode of selection and removal" of their officials.

Never Decided
However, a special provision of the New York City charter, believed based on this part of the Constitution, brings the Mayor and the Commissioner to Police under the law as it relates to the removal of county officials, on which the Constitution is very specific. This has never been ruled on by the courts.

While the Governor's counsel holds the executive has the authority to sit in judgment on the Mayor, the challenge to this right has already resulted in the Governor agreeing to withhold his decision until after the Supreme Court meets August 19 to rule on the question.

Donnelly merely secured an order calling on the Governor to show cause why he should not be restrained. There was no restraining writ issued and the Governor could have gone ahead and announced his decision prior to the show cause hearing, but he agreed to withhold it until that date as a matter of judicial courtesy. He did not indicate how soon he might make his decision after Aug. 19 or what action he might take should the court ruling be against him.

The hearing was in recess until Monday afternoon.

It is said children gain weight faster in autumn and winter, and height chiefly in spring and early summer.

Insured Against Murder By Gangs
Chicago, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Chicago's long and bitter fight against the gangsters today was marked by a new development—insurance against murder by hoodlums.

Officials of the Milk Drivers' Union, which gangsters are reported to have threatened with insurrection, are the men insured. The union voted to pay $15,000 out of its $800,000 fund to the family of any of its officers killed by hoodlums. The money is payable within 24 hours of such a crime.

So far as could be learned it was the first time in the history of Chicago's struggle against the racketeers and the gunman, that it was second necessary to insure the families of labor leaders against the possibility of gangster guns.

The Chicago Daily Tribune said it was understood the fund was intended principally for the protection of Robert C. Fitchie, president of the union; Steve C. Cummer, its 83-year-old business agent, and Ray Bryant, its trustee.

SOME ILLINOIS MINERS REFUSE TO OBEY ORDERS
Defy Union Officials And Refuse To Go Back To Work

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 13.—(AP)—No coal was hoisted today in mines in the Springfield subdistrict.

Pickets still surrounded the tipple, in defiance of orders from John Lewis, international president of the union, for the cessation of picketing and mass meetings.

In Taylorville however, about 1,500 diggers went below in four mines of the Peabody Coal Company. It was their third day of work since signing of the new wage scale.

All desisting to return to work here were promptly stopped by the picket lines and dissuaded. The pickets stayed off the mine property.

A mass meeting was called for this afternoon and all locals opposed to work under the $5 contract were asked to send representatives. Leaders said a heavy rain would not change their plans.

PREPARE FOR STRIKE
Belleville, Ill., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Coal miners of the Belleville district today were making ready for a general strike in all mines Monday morning.

The strike was decided upon at the mass meeting held here yesterday to repudiate the new $5 basic daily wage scale agreement signed by union officials. Of about 5,000 miners in the Belleville district approximately 2,200 have been employed under the wage agreement, which expired March 31, and which provided a basic daily wage of $6.10.

Miners attending the mass meeting also agreed to present a proposal for a statewide strike at a meeting of southern Illinois miners to be held tomorrow at Mendon, Ill. Calling of a state convention, to demand recall of district officers and members of the state committee who voted favorably on the new wage agreement, also was advocated in a resolution adopted at the mass meeting.

Told To Get Out
One of the principal speakers at the meeting was Richard Thomas, a Belleville member of the scale committee who said his committee did not approve of the new wage scale and charged that Belleville district officers and others voted illegally in passing upon the wage agreement. Thomas also charged that John L. Lewis, international miners' president, his secretary, William Sneed and members of the district executive board cast ballots that decided adoption of the agreement but that they were not entitled to vote.

"The final vote was 26 to 25 in favor of the scale, with all these persons voting," Thomas said. "When I challenged their votes they told me to get out."

REPUBLICANS TO PRESS FOR WORK ON DRY STATUTE

Will Seek Congressional Action Early In the Coming Session

Washington, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Dropping for the time being the political activities which have engrossed him for several days, President Hoover today directed his activities toward governmental affairs and the economic conference he is planning in an effort to stimulate business.

Several Cabinet officers were called in one after another by the Chief Executive for discussions centering around these two topics. Those who called at the White House for discussion of political topics were referred to Mr. Hoover's secretaries.

Roy D. Chapin, the new Secretary of Commerce, said he had discussed plans for the general business conference with Hoover, but said the White House itself would have to be the only source of information concerning it.

"All I can say," Chapin added, "is that the President has a very definite and a very fine plan, speaking as a business man, and I think the business men of the country are going to like it."

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Spurred by President Hoover's call for prohibition reform, leaders of the Senate Republican majority intend to go to work on the 18th Amendment at the coming December session.

Senator McNary of Oregon, the Assistant Republican Leader, says the order of business when the Senate reconvenes is a vote on taking up prohibition repeal.

The pending motion and proposal is one advanced by Senator Glass (D. Va.). The Virginia Democrat asserted last night that Mr. Hoover's prohibition recommendation "is identical with the proposal offered by me." He facetiously denied writing this section of the President's address.

Want Quick Action
Republicans now intent on setting the congressional end of the prohibition controversy before the inauguration next March 4 previously have contended that Glass offered their party platform proposal.

President Hoover is expected by some highly-placed Republicans on Capitol Hill to recommend to Congress in the coming short session immediate action on his idea for state liquor control, with a constitutional guarantee for prohibition.

He himself has made no statement in that regard, however, and pointed out that "the Constitution gives the President no power or authority with respect to changes in the Constitution itself."

"The first duty of the President," he emphasized, "is to enforce the laws as they exist. That I shall continue to do to the utmost of my ability."

President Hoover is applying to a new drive for better business one of his oldest and favorite ideas—that of asking help directly from the men he thinks can give it.

He will present to business and industrial leaders in a conference shortly his plans for "united and concerted action on a broad front throughout the country." The date of the meeting, he expects to announce Monday.

At that gathering, Mr. Hoover will expound his nine-point economic program to men of importance from each of the twelve Federal Reserve districts. That was the plan he had in mind when he said in his acceptance speech:

"I am today organizing the private industrial and financial resources of the country to cooperate effectively with the vast governmental instrumentalities which we have in motion."

Ready For Conference
His work in that direction, he told newspapermen, has progressed far enough for the businessmen to be called into consultation. With them he will discuss means of speeding self-liquidating construction by loans from the Reconstruction Corporation, stimulation of a move to clear slum districts, distribution of live stock and feeder loans to farmers, spreading existing employment through the shorter working hours, establishment of the Home Loan Bank System, stimulating railway construction and repair work, helping in the disposition of agricultural commodities, and other things.

And before long, too, he expects to select a new director for another of his relief machines—the organization of unemployment.

To Ask Death For
Leader Of Revolt

Madrid, Aug. 13—(AP)—Attorney General Martinez Aragon said today the penalty he will ask for General Jose Sanjurjo and those arrested with him in connection with last Wednesday's revolt will be that demanded by the military code for officers and men who rebel against the state.

Although he refused to use the word death penalty, this is the punishment the code provides in such cases.

The trials of General Sanjurjo and those arrested with him at Huelva will be held separately, he said, and he hoped to complete them speedily, perhaps by the end of August.

The general expectation, was, however, that if the death penalty were meted out to General Sanjurjo the government would commute it because of his fame as a soldier.

Daughter Of U. S.
Consul Was Lost

Warsaw, Poland, Aug. 13—(AP)—Police, after a night spent in seeking a man they believed kidnapped five-year-old Patricia Millin, daughter of United States Consul Stewart E. McMillin of Lawrence, Kan., said today they believed the child had merely been lost and found.

She disappeared yesterday in a public park where she had gone with a nursemaid to play. Found a few hours later in a shop, she had been taken from the park by a man.

Police said they believed Patricia had strayed away and the man was a pedestrian who tried to show her the way home, but was baffled by inability to understand English.

FORMER WALTON
PRIEST HONORED
BY POPE PIUS XI

Fr. Charles Conley Is One Of Two Priests Made Domestic Prelate

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 13—Announcement was made today by His Excellency, Most Reverend Edward P. Hoban, D. D., Catholic bishop of Rockford, that His Holiness, Pope Pius XI, had conferred upon the Rev. Charles Francis Conley, pastor of St. Mary's parish, Freeport, and Rev. Magnus Ambrose Schumacher, pastor of St. Nicholas parish, Aurora, the dignity of Domestic Prelates to His Holiness, with the title of Right Reverend Monsignor.

Father Conley was born at Huntley, Ill. He made his classical studies at St. Ignace college, Chicago, and was sent in 1903 to the North American college in Rome, Italy for his philosophical and theological studies. Father Conley spent six years in Rome and obtained the degrees of PhD and S.T.B. He was ordained April 9, 1909, and was the first priest ordained for the Rockford diocese after the election of the Catholic diocese of Rockford. His first appointment was to St. Mary's parish, Elgin, where he served as assistant pastor until his appointment to the new parish of Walton. During the twelve years of his pastorate at Walton, Father Conley was eminently successful as a religious leader and was active in all social and civic enterprises. On July 11, 1924, Father Conley was appointed pastor of St. Mary's church at Freeport. Besides the successful administration of his parish, the erection and development of Aquin high school has been the result principally of his endeavor and have won for him not only the esteem of the people of Freeport, but the universal esteem of all those who realize the work and sacrifice that has been entailed in all his work, but particularly in the establishment and the progress of Aquin high school.

Father Schumacher's career at Freeport. His early education was acquired in the schools of Freeport and Wisconsin, Ontario and his classical studies were made at Kitchener, Ontario. He was ordained by Bishop Colton of Buffalo, N. Y., on June 10, 1911, after the completion of his theological studies at St. Bonaventure's seminary in Allegany New York. After his ordination, Father Schumacher was first appointed to assist Father McMahon, pastor of

RIVER SUNDAY
AT ASSEMBLY

Dorothy Kunzman, A Girl Evangelist, To Hold Unique Service

"When the Son of Man Cometh" is the subject for tonight's message as the Paul Rader tabernacle in Assembly Park at 7:45. Miss Dorothy Kunzman, the "girl evangelist" will speak on this great subject.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, Miss Kunzman will conduct a brief baptism service followed by a water baptism to a score or more of people at the bathing beach in Rock River.

This promises to be a very unique and interesting event. Miss Kunzman has conducted many large open air baptism services in her youthful ministry, one of the largest being on the shores of Lake Ontario at Sodus Point, New York, when over 4000 people were in attendance. Come early to the tabernacle 2:30 Sunday afternoon and hear this dynamic girl speak on the value and beauty of water baptism. If you have repented of your sins and have accepted Jesus Christ as your Saviour and wish to be "buried with Him", see Miss Kunzman at 2:00 o'clock Sunday at the tabernacle.

Sunday night services begin promptly at 7:30. At 8 o'clock Miss Kunzman will speak on the subject, "The Needle's Eye."

Mayor Dixon will assist in the Monday evening's service, at which Rev. Billy Sunday will be the speaker.

LET US GET BACK TO FIRST PRINCIPLES

FOR AMERICA, the way out of present troubles is the road back to first principles—to courage, thrift and co-operation.

The broad trail of speculation and extravagance which led to 1929, has taken us far away from the pioneer qualities which made this nation rich and great.

Now we are returning to the safe road. With courage and faith—not fear—in our hearts, we are going to follow once more the old familiar ways of individual thrift and co-operation.

This cannot be an affair of the few only. Every citizen in every community should be in step with progress.

Back to first principles—to courage, thrift and co-operation!

SUNDAY-RADER
MEETING HERE TO DRAW CROWD

Record Attendance Expected At Assembly Park Monday Eve

Two of America's foremost evangelists—Rev. William A. "Billy" Sunday and Dr. Paul Rader—will occupy the same platform in Dixon next Monday evening joining forces to conduct one of the greatest religious services ever held in northern Illinois.

Rev. Sunday is coming to Dixon, scene of many of his earlier triumphs, as the invited guest of Dr. Rader, who is in charge of the Paul Rader Conference Grounds, Assembly Park, on the banks of the Rock river. The two great evangelists are warm personal friends and Sunday accepted Rader's invitation to "bring a ringing spiritual message" to this community.

Since plans for Rev. Sunday's visit to Dixon were first announced, Dr. Rader's associates at the conference grounds have been besieged with requests for seats in the big tabernacle; but it has been announced that none of the 5,500 seats are to be reserved. Arrangements are being made to seat the anticipated overflow audience around the big circular building, which is open on all sides except the platform.

Dr. Rader, who has captured the sympathy and support of the entire middle west through the Paul Rader's Pantry movement to feed hundreds of thousands of destitute families this winter, will bring the latest news of his food salvaging program to the audience and will introduce Rev. Sunday for the principal sermon of the evening. The program opens at 7:30 p. m. with a song service, Dr. Rader and Billy Sunday making their appearance at 8 o'clock.

The morning meeting at 10:30 on the same day will be conducted by Evangelist Dorothy Kunzman, the "girl preacher" from California, and the afternoon meeting by Ralph Rader, secretary of all extension work of the Paul Rader activities throughout the world. In view of this all-day activity, many persons are planning to make an all day affair of it.

According to word just received from Dr. Rader's Chicago headquarters, tremendous progress is being made in the food salvaging work.

Pantries Progress
"Our program of gathering and salvaging the vast surplus farm crops that exist this season, canning them for distribution this winter among the needy people who will be faced with starvation, is making even better progress than we had anticipated," Dr. Rader said.

"Our volunteer workers are on the job daily and in one single day we prepared more than 1,000 cans of food at the Chicago Gospel Tabernacle alone. Our chief need now is for more produce to keep our workers busy, and nothing would please us more than to receive such an avalanche of fruit and vegetables that more volunteers would be needed for the canning."

Dr. Rader paid particular tribute to the work being done at Pantry No. 2, located here, asserting that

A SONG OF TARRYING
N HOUR, there, was impatience
But a year, content;
For places know that peace is Given, not lent.

The alien hills drew closer,
View by familiar view,
And in my woods a welcome
Slowly grew.

I found the rocks curve gently
To a resting foot,
Where haste went empty-handed,
Time brought fruit.

Till loveliness, lived over
Day after day, became
The joy itself that hurry
Did not name.

W.C.T.U. Will Resist All Changes to 18th Amendment

Seattle, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Pledged anew to resist every effort to repeal or submit to vote the 18th amendment, the Women's Christian Temperance Union today began the business sessions of its 58th annual convention.

Delegates last night adopted the keynote speech of President Mrs. Ella A. Boole of Brooklyn, N. Y., in which she said the union "can not accept either the repeal amendment proposed by the Democratic platform or the amendment proposed by Mr. Hoover." She urged members to concentrate on election of dry Congressmen and legislators.

Unable to approve either of the two presidential candidates because of their views regarding a change in the liquor laws, Mrs. Boole suggested "it may be your convictions upon other great questions will help you in reaching a decision as to how to vote."

Prolonged applause greeted her statement the Union could not subscribe to either of the prohibition planks adopted by the two major parties.

She challenged the vets to prove prohibition is responsible for drinking, political corruption or the present economic situation. Drinking she attributed to law violators; political corruption to illegal liquor traffic and the depression to the inflation following the war.

She attacked the major parties for not giving women a larger part in the procedure of the national conventions.

Annual Picnic G.A.R. Circle Well Attended

The Ladies of the G. A. R. Circle held their annual picnic at the George Onnen cottage on Route 2, Wednesday, Aug. 10 which was well attended.

There was a large attendance, including guests from neighboring cities, charter members, past presidents, comrades and honorary members and friends. At noon a bountiful picnic dinner was served by the committee in charge. Upon leaving, all present expressed their appreciation for the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Onnen and for the splendid entertainment of the day.

The Ladies of G. A. R. Circle No. 73 will hold their regular meeting Monday evening in G. A. R. hall at 7:30 P. M. A good attendance is desired as there will be initiation of candidates. A social hour will follow.

Christian Council to Meet Tuesday Eve

The Young People's Christian Council will meet at the Church of God on Tuesday evening, Aug. 16 at 7:30 P. M. An interesting program in the form of an outdoor service has been planned. The meeting will be held on the lawn at the rear of the church. The theme will be "Consecration." There will be short spiritual talks by members of various churches. This will be a worth while meeting and the young people of the various cooperating churches are urged to attend.

A Picnic Menu

(Cooked over campfire)
Kabobs Pickled Beets
Escalloped Potatoes
Buttered Rolls Currant Jam
Oranges Coconut Jumbles
Coffee

Kabobs
6 long skewers
12 pieces beef round
12 thin slices onions
Select metal skewers or long thin sticks. Have meat cut into one inch pieces. Broil over camp fire, turning to allow even cooking. The meat can be eaten directly from sticks or removed and used as filling for buttered rolls.

Pieces of veal and pork can be mixed with beef. Small pieces of bacon and tomatoes can be used with onions and meat if desired.

Pickled Beets
4 cups sliced cooked beets
1-2 cup vinegar
1-2 cup sugar
1-2 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon pepper
1-4 cup cinnamon bark
12 whole cloves

Mix sugar, vinegar, water and spices. Boil five minutes in covered pan. Remove spices. Add beets, salt and pepper. Cook two minutes. Cool and pour into sterilized jar. Cover and carry to picnic.

Coconut Jumbles
1-2 cup fat
1-2 cups sugar
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon lemon extract
1 teaspoon vanilla
1-4 teaspoon salt
2 eggs

1-2 cup coconut
3-2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon soda
Cream fat and sugar. Add cream extracts, salt and eggs. Beat two minutes. Add rest of ingredients. Drop portions from end of spoon onto greased baking sheets. Bake 12 minutes in moderate oven.

Another Picnic Menu
Chopped Meat Cakes
Corn on the Cob
Vegetable Salad
Buttered Rolls Plum Jelly
Potato Chips Watermelon
Coffee

"Savory" Cutlets Named Correctly

3 small onions, sliced
2 tablespoons fat
6 small veal cutlets
1 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon paprika
Milk
Heat fat, add onions, and brown slightly. Dredge cutlets with flour and brown with the fat and onions. Add salt and paprika and over with milk. Cover pan, and simmer for 1 hour, turning meat once during cooking. Sour cream used instead of milk in this dish, gives it an unusual flavor.

State Home Bureau Picnic Big Success

The State Home Bureau picnic at Starved Rock was a great success. Over four hundred attended, representing at least nineteen different counties. A large delegation from LaSalle county was present to extend a welcoming hand to their guests.

The following counties were represented: Lake, DuPage, Kane, Kane, Vermillion, Champaign, McLean, Livingston, Woodford, Peoria, Fulton, McDonough, Warren, Mercer, Marshall, Putnam, Bureau, Lee and LaSalle.

Officers from the State University adding interest and enthusiasm to the gathering were Miss Isabel Hitchcock, Miss Lulu Black, Mrs. Kathryn Van Aken Burns, Miss Helen Skinner, Miss Lois Schenck, Miss Edna E. Walls and Miss Edna Gray.

The presence of Mrs. H. G. Miles, county president, and Mrs. Irma Hill Vogel, county secretary, was another contribution to the success of the occasion.

A trip to the top of Starved Rock was an excellent appetizer for the twelve o'clock dinner. The different groups seated at the tables and partaking with such evident enjoyment the delicious food they had brought was indeed a pleasant sight.

After dinner a short program was presented in the pavilion. L. M. Davis, editor of the Ottawa Republican Times gave a picture review of the historic spots in the vicinity. Miss Lois Schenck spoke on the Prairie Farmer tour.

After the program a large number enjoyed the boat trip to Horse-shoe Canyon. The points of interest were beautiful, the day was perfect and every one seemed glad they had made the effort to come.

Dixon Ladies In Freeport Tourney Are Given Awards

Freeport.—Mrs. G. E. Cleophas of Beloit, with a score of 252 for 54 holes, was awarded the handsome trophy for low gross score Friday at the conclusion of the Northern Illinois—Southern Wisconsin Women's Golf tournament at the Freeport Country Club.

The women will hold their 1933 tournament at the business meeting of the association. Officers named were Mrs. A. J. Wagner of Beloit, president; Mrs. E. R. Scott, Freeport, vice president; and Mrs. Ralph Fisher, secretary-treasurer.

The men's bi-state tournament in 1933 will also be held at Beloit.

A number of attractive prizes, ten to be exact, were also awarded for first and second low net score in each of the five flights of the tournament as follows:

First flight: Mrs. Perry Fiske, DeKalb, set of dinner plates, 243 net score, first; Mrs. Donna Chapman, Dixon, serving tray, 252 net score, second.

Second flight: Miss Mary Gardner, Beloit, picnic hamper, 241 net score, first; Miss Arlene Smith, Beloit, cake plate, 248 net score, second.

Third flight: Miss Amy Younglove, Freeport, leather portfolio, 245 net score, first; Mrs. Willard Thompson, Dixon, table lamp, 251 net score, second.

Fourth flight: Mrs. H. Meyer, Beloit, combination vanity and i-garrette case, 263 net score, first; Mrs. R. H. Banks, Freeport, purse, 267 net score, second.

Fifth flight: Mrs. J. C. Spencer, DeKalb, nut dish, 243 net score, first; Mrs. Ralph Fisher, Beloit, serving tray, 258 net score, second.

Twenty birdies were made during the two-day tournament and each woman who made one birdie or more was awarded a prize of golf balls. The seven shares of sweepstakes went three to Miss Amy Younglove of Freeport and four divided between Mmes. Cleophas, Thompson, Chapman and Fiske.

Mrs. Fred H. Gibler, Freeport, was chairman of the association's banquet, at the Freeport Country club at which covers were laid for thirty-five. Mrs. Gibler was

Another Shattered Stage Romance

Minden, Nevada, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Another shattered stage romance—that of Ruth Chatterton and Ralph Forbes—was sealed and filed away in the court records of this "Reno Annex" divorce center today.

The decree was granted to Forbes yesterday after he made a quick automobile trip from Reno, filed his complaint and went through the formality of a hearing before the District Judge Edgar Eather. Judge Eather then ordered all papers in the case sealed.

William Woodburn, Forbes' attorney, said the decree was obtained on the ground of mental cruelty.

ENJOYED DELIGHTFUL MOTOR TRIP TO CANADA—

Mrs. Elizabeth Maxwell, Miss Catherine Schafer, Miss Lucia Spencer and the Misses Clara and Florence Koepfer left last Saturday on a delightful vacation motor trip and returned home Thursday evening. They motored to Green Bay, Wis., on to the National Forests and then to Sault Ste. Marie, and then enjoyed quite a motor coverage in Canada. They visited St. Ignace and also took the ferry to Mackinaw Islands. On the return trip they greatly admired the beauty of the route they chose through Michigan on down home.

The executive committee had charge of the meeting.

Yellow Roses Bring Message of Sympathy

Chicago, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Yellow roses, the favorite flower of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, were a fragrant reminder today of a visit from her divorced husband, Harold F. McCormick.

The head of the International Harvester Company, who hurried back from the Pacific coast when Mrs. McCormick's illness became serious, sat at the bedside of his former wife for more than an hour last night. He carried an armful of yellow roses as he entered her room.

The couple's children, Fowler McCormick and Mrs. Muriel Hubbard, who have been daily visitors, were not present when their father called. Another daughter, Mrs. Max Oser, is on her way from Switzerland to be with her mother. Estrangements resulting from marital alliances of all the children have been healed by their mother's illness.

Meeting of Happy Workers 4-H Club

The Happy Workers 4-H club held the last meeting of the season at the home of Mary Frances Buhler, Thursday August 11th.

The meeting was opened by the president, Irene Mensch. The roll call was answered by all members but two; there being one visitor. The minutes of the last meeting were then read and approved.

A talk on "German Music" was given by Lucy Lawton. A demonstration entitled "Embroidery Stitches" by Irene Mensch was given. Kathryn Scholl gave a demonstration entitled "Button Hole Stitch."

The meeting then adjourned, after which recreation was enjoyed, and delicious refreshments of pineapple salad and candy, were served.

THE IDEAL CAFE

105 First Street

(Hats from Lilly Dache)

Cocking themselves over one eye is one of the tricks that a large number of the new fall hats are practicing. They swing down on the right side of the forehead in a demure manner and tilt up on the left side in an audacious gesture that reveals most of the hair. The contrast of the two moods is decidedly effective. At left is a beige stitched velvet with a brim that is set high on the crown in the back, coming low over the right side of the head. The other hat, of stitched black velvet, chooses a turban effect. Clusters of black and white flowers are attached to either side.

A NEW TANK AND A MONUMENT.

Two entirely unrelated little news stories got into the papers the other day, and if you happened to read them together they may have set you thinking.

One told of the new army tank that was being tested at Linden, N. J. This tank proved itself able to travel 110 miles an hour along the highway and to do 60 miles an hour over rough ground. It can jump over ditches and it is light enough to be carried by an airplane.

All in all, it seems to be a delightfully efficient bit of fighting machinery.

The other story came from Thiepval, France. It told how the Prince of Wales, President Lebrun of France and other dignitaries met to dedicate Great Britain's memorial to the 73,000 English soldiers who died in the battle of the Somme.

Not much connection between these two stories—but reading them together does start one pondering.

We are at present devoting ourselves—like all other great nations—to the job of getting ready for the next war. We are spending huge sums and enlisting the cleverest and designers we can find so that our army and navy can kill expeditiously and surely the next time they are called into action.

Given the present state of international relations, we can hardly do anything else. And yet—

That memorial on the Somme rises like a grim signpost. Seventy-three thousand Englishmen died in one battle there. Thousands more were maimed for life. Almost an equal number of Germans fell in the same fight. That memorial ought, somehow, to be more than just a tribute to gallantry.

It ought to stir us anew to bend every effort to make a repetition of that ghastly battle forever impossible.

So far, we haven't done much along that line. And, meanwhile, we have devised a fine new tank that can go 110 miles an hour and jump ditches.

THE FALL CHEST CAMPAIGNS.

The fact that $300,000,000 in federal money is going to be available for unemployment relief this fall and winter is no reason why the ordinary citizen's contributions to private charity should be any smaller than they were last year.

Newton D. Baker, heading a national committee for welfare activities, does a public service in warning everyone that the established community funds will need just as much support this year as they ever did, if not more.

"The people must be fed," he remarks. "Tax funds, federal and state, will have to bear a large part of that. But even for relief, tax funds will have to have important assistance from the community funds."

The warning is timely. Each city must prepare for the job of raising money in the old-fashioned way to supplement funds drawn from taxes.

AN EXCELLENT SCHEME.

One of the best ways of promoting more confidence among the rank and file of the citizens seems to be the plan adopted by the Delaware & Hudson Railroad in conjunction with the "big four" brotherhoods recently, by which every regular employee is guaranteed 240 hours of work a month for the next year.

Countless thousands of consumers have cut down on their purchases of goods during the last few years, not because their earning power has seriously diminished but because they have been afraid that it was going to. The man who believes he is going to lose his job or go on part-time work week after next cannot be expected to maintain his normal rate of purchasing.

A scheme like this one, which assures workmen that their earning power will not be reduced for an entire year, should be an excellent stimulus to buying activity.

One man at the head of our nation can supply the leadership which will inspire once more our people with the confidence they have lost and lead them effectively to happier days of deserved economic security.—Vincent Astor, New York financier.

The cosmos itself is not friendly to our wishes, is not concerned with the promotion of human values, but is profoundly inimical to our wishes. Life itself has been emptied of meaning for multitudes of men who find it barren and a burden.—Professor H. Richard Niebuhr, Yale Divinity School.

I was afraid the detectives would shoot me. I have been shot once by the police and I know how it feels.—William Enzulus, held as slayer of Cleveland detective.

If this sudden success had happened to me at 20, it would have seemed more important than it does at 40.—Pearl S. Buck, author of best-seller, "The Good Earth."

It is heresy to say that the path for peace lies not in mathematical arms parity.—Professor James T. Shotwell of Columbia University.

AB WALKER, CO-DEFENDANT WITH LIBBY HOLMAN, GOES HIS QUIET WAY AMONG FRIENDS, UNWORRIED BY IMPENDING TRIAL

By GILBERT SWAN
N. A. Service Writer

Winston-Salem, N. C.—The sluggish Yadkin river, where they're zigging frogs now and getting cat-fish and bullheads, is providing Ab Walker with one escape from the Brutus charge which a county grand jury has brought against him.

If the stain of complicity in murder is upon his conscience, then the closest friend of the late Smith Reynolds is a consummate amateur performer, worthy to be cast as a juvenile "heavy" with glamorous Libby Holman.

Walker, while seeking diversion, is facing the townfolk of his birthplace, walking in the open and adopting a casual report that cannot be termed defiance although there is reason to believe that, even in complete exonerated follows the forthcoming trial, he will journey elsewhere for several years.

Seek Diversions

He has appeared at the movie theaters—laughed at a comedy on evening of his release on bail—he has drifted in and out of his club, playing pool with his fellows—he has flown and played golf and attended church on Sunday mornings with his devout parents.

The strain existing, is hinted rather than revealed.

Ab, a quiet, wirey lad with a magnetic capacity for making friends, had long been admitted one of the more expert frog giggers. The lads of the countryside grow adept at the art of spearing the frog once hypnosis has been induced by a strong light. It's a native river game, played in childhood by Smith, Reynolds and his buddy, Ab. It's played in the dark of night. Down here it's pronounced "higging."

And the accused youth seems to find it diverting, although Carolina nights by murky waters are haunting.

Interested in Gardening

A youth of many interests and facets—this young co-defendant with a stage world sensation who seems in many ways his exact opposite.

Ab Walker quietly waits in the garden of his Winston-Salem, N. C., home . . . and finds diversion in gigging frogs . . . while awaiting trial as co-defendant in the Smith Reynolds murder case . . . Inset, a close-up of the youth who stands accused of having a part in the killing of his wealthy boyhood friend.

Walker is, for instance something of a botanical amateur. His experiments with iris raising have attracted attention. In his garden you'll find some seven or ten species of rare iris. The gardening interest expands to trick landscaping. His rock gardens are most expertly arranged.

Trick effects with flower life in pools and fountains are found in his own back yard.

Ab, seemingly a restless youth, has made no basic preparations for the future. He had selected no profession, nor trained in a college.

His kinship with his locale has attracted him to the textile industry. Not so long before tragedy stalked his steps, he took a job with one of the big blanket concerns of the town. He announced that he wanted to learn the business from every angle and started at the bottom, with a salary of $5 a week. But he moved on again.

Planned World Tour

The same restlessness caused him to agree on the round-the-world trip which his pal, the multi-millionaire Smith, was planning. He took up aviation. His own income is limited. His father a realtor, was considered comfortably wealthy before the depression, yet expressed concern when a $25,000 ball was demanded. Yet, though he foresaw a decline in his own family fortune, intimates say that he never so much as suggested the possibility of a good job with the Reynolds interests. Instead he took the presumed job as young Reynolds's secretary, though townfolk smile and refer to it as an engagement with companionship as his chief purpose.

And as the time for his trial slowly draws nearer, Ab continues going to the picture shows, his friends, the frog-ponds, and his friends refrain from discussing with him the subject that is on every tongue for miles around.

Who Is This Guy, Jim Bausch?

—Well, Here Are a Few Answers

In this group are several members of the Bausch family of Kansas farmers. Peter Bausch, father of "Jarring Jim" Bausch, world decathlon champion, Lawrence, a brother of Jim and already a star high school athlete, and Mrs. Bausch, Jim's mother, are shown at the top. A nolder brother, Lee, lower left, is a successful farmer at Garden Plain. Mrs. Bertha Marden, center, of Sabetha, is Jim's sister. The great "Jarring Jim" himself is shown, lower right, worn and rather peaked after his strenuous efforts in the Olympic decathlon, and in the inset as he appeared when he attended grade school at Garden Plain.

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER
N. A. Service Sports Editor

New York—The line, "Local Boy Makes Good," applies to James Aloysius Bernard Bausch, Olympic decathlon champion of all the world.

Jim Bausch was the type the barber would designate as "he certainly was a card!" Years ago, in the days after Jim had learned to put the shot in high school, he used to disguise himself in an old straw hat and working clothes and stroll into local track meets.

"How did you learn to throw that thing?" he would ask the young man who had been victorious in the shot put.

"You don't throw shot," would be the reply, "you PUT IT."

To which James, "Jarring Jim," would reply:

"Well, you ought to PUT it farther than that!"

Usually the local champion's blood would boil. He would ask some sort of question as this:

"Well, can you put it farther?"

Then Jim would take the iron ball in his hand and put it 5, 10, 20 feet farther than the home town hero had been able to pitch the thing.

After which James Aloysius would walk away, unknown, unannounced, unnoted and unangry.

That was years ago, of course. It was when Jim was a callow, school boy, in Garden Plain, or Wichita, Kan. Understand, he was a farm boy, to begin with, born March 28, 1896, on the plains of South Dakota.

He was a bottle baby . . . "brought up on oatmeal porridge, with a little wale and a drop of whisky" . . . according to his mother, Mrs. Peter Bausch of 324 North Poplar street, Wichita, Kan.

"I just took the advice of the neighbors," said Mrs. Bausch, when asked about Jim's babyhood.

The father was, and still is, a farm man. He farmed in the Dakotas. Later he moved to Garden Plain, Kan. — that was about 20 years ago when Jim was six years old—and finally he moved to Wichita.

Jim was an ambitious athlete wherever he went. He doted on defeating the "big shot" athletes of every community where the Bausch family—father, mother, five brothers and two sisters—took residence.

Brutus Hamilton, University of Kansas track coach, expressed it. "He won because he hates to lose."

Jim first showed athletic promise on the Garden Plain, Kan. football and basketball teams. Besides that, he competed with his schoolmates in wrestling, running, leaping, throwing rocks or spearing distant targets with giant sunflower stalks.

Then he entered Cathedral High school in Wichita. His strength and stamina won games singlehanded.

They still tell of a game in Wichita in which Jim, hit on the head in an early period, played throughout the battle, without flinching consciousness.

"He could play better without his senses," said some of his old teammates, "than others could with full sensibilities."

He went to the University of Kansas. It is remembered that he worked for an insurance firm while in 1930 was blamed on the failure of the house to pass the Norris bill providing for government ownership and operation of Muscle Shoals and the immediate construction of a $43,000,000 dam in Tennessee.

Then he began training quietly for the Olympic games—and emerged with the title, "the world's greatest athlete."

VINDICATED, HE SAYS—

He was opposed to federal operation of the Muscle Shoals property. President Hoover wrote him a letter endorsing his stand, which he used widely in his campaign.

Because of the President's known reluctance to do things of this sort, much was made of the endorsement at the time.

Reece refused to admit that this caused his defeat. He contended the reason he was not returned was because those who would have voted for him were snowed out on election day and couldn't get to the polls.

"My position was vindicated at the polls," he said publicly on the floor of the house afterwards.

"Let any man enter a republican primary in that district today advocating a federal operation theory and he'll be defeated by at least three to one."

In his opinion the Norris plan is "a far reaching experiment in socialism." He repeatedly declared that he could not stultify himself by agreeing to such a proposition even if it meant retaining a seat in congress.

UNDAUNTED BY DEFEAT—

Reece, 42 years old, is active and aggressive. Defeat in 1930 didn't daunt him. Immediately he started laying his plans to return to the House.

During the world war he was a major in an outfit which served at the front for 210 days. He wears the distinguished service cross, distinguished service medal and the croix de guerre with palm.

He was cited for bravery by Marshal Petain, Generals Edwards and Hale and Colonel Lewis.

Selling Barrage Hit Stock Market

New York, Aug. 12 (AP)—The heaviest barrage of selling the stock market had seen for some time swept the list in today's last hour, bringing extreme net losses of $1 to $5 in pivotal issues and declines ranging to more than $12 in some recent speculative favorites.

The break accompanied a drop of more than 2 cents a bushel in wheat and a sharp reaction in cotton. Shares were offered in blocks of moderate size, but they were persistent and the tape fell six or seven minutes behind the transactions on the floor.

Bonds, however, held fairly firm. Shares closed at their lows.

United States Steel's net loss was $4.25 to $38.12. American Telephone flopped $7 to $106.25. Allied Chemical $5 to $73 and American Can $6 to $50.12.

Farm implements were especially weak. Case losing $13.50 to $46, and International Harvester $5 to $27.50. Auburn broke $12 net, closing at $64.

Eastman Kodak, American Tobacco, B. New York Central, Union Pacific and American Smelting were off roughly $4 to $5, while net losses in North American, Woolworth, Northern Pacific, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Bethlehem Steel and Westinghouse declined $2 to $3.

Transactions approximated 3,500,000 shares.

Street Cars That Go Straight Up

A view of Brazil's vertical street railway. (Above) a close-up of one of the "trolleys" which gives the effect of a street car on stilts.

A vertical street railway system where the trolley cars instead of running on the highways go almost straight up in the air, has recently been put into operation in Bahia, Brazil.

This thriving Brazilian town is built on two levels, the residential section being considerably above the commercial district. It is necessary daily to move the town's entire population from one level to another.

Recently Bahia, opened the La Cerdá tower connecting the two levels with high speed elevator service. Before the tower was erected the town depended upon an incline railway known as the "steam chariot."

As the population grew, additional transportation facilities were required, and the engineers of the Otis Elevator Company last year converted the "chariot" into what is probably the only vertical trolley car system in existence.

This unique railway has two cars, each having a capacity of forty passengers. The travel of these cars is about 175 feet on an incline from the horizontal of about 35 degrees. The cars travel at a speed of 650 feet per minute, and each has two engines and two exits protected by power operated doors.

The re-opening of this vertical street car system was made a public function, attended by the local authorities, representatives of the press, and many of the prominent citizens of the city.

The ceremony was conducted by the acting Prefect of Bahia who stressed the marked improvement in communication between the two levels which will be provided by the new conditions.

pendent republican just 10 days before the election. National attention shifted to the Tennessee mountains because President Hoover and the then republican leader of the house, Thion of Connecticut, endorsed Reece for reelection.

Reece appears to have won, although the defeated candidate has charged fraud in the balloting in one county.

The young Tennesseean's defeat in 1930 was blamed on the failure of the house to pass the Norris bill providing for government ownership and operation of Muscle Shoals and the immediate construction of a $43,000,000 dam in Tennessee.

Then he began training quietly for the Olympic games—and emerged with the title, "the world's greatest athlete."

OBITUARY

MARGARET M. WITZLER

Margaret May Witzler was born December 28, 1910, at Dixon, Ill., and departed this life Saturday, July 30, at Los Angeles, California.

She was the seventh oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Witzler. Death was due to cerebral hemorrhage, caused from over study.

Margaret was a good student. As her pastor, I can say that she studied well while attending confirmation instruction. It was my privilege to both baptize and confirm her, which sacred acts took place in our Immanuel Lutheran Church on Palm Sunday, March 1926.

She was a member of a class of eight girls. After finishing High School, she decided upon journalism as her career in life and for this purpose attended the University of Southern California.

She had completed two years of her training. She had a pleasing personality and a kind disposition. She enjoyed a large circle of friends. The deceased was in good health until about a month ago when she had a fainting spell.

She experienced another spell about three weeks ago. On Saturday night about 11:00 P. M. she passed away. Her sudden death was a severe shock to her parents, brothers and sisters and immediate friends.

Those who mourn her passing are: her bereaved parents; five sisters, Mrs. Ruth Sterricker of Elgin, Mrs. Hazel Ostrander of Joliet, Mrs. Pauline Burmeister of Polo, Helen and Katherine at home; four brothers, Carl, John, Fred and Harold at home. Two brothers and one sister predeceased her in death.

When my last hour is close at hand My last sad journey taken Do thou, Lord Jesus, by me stand.

Let me not be forsaken: O Lord! My spirit I resign Into thy loving hands divine 'Tis safe within thy keeping

Girl To Pitch In Game Here Sunday

Miss Gertrude Brown, 18-year-old girl pitcher, will don a uniform of the William B. Johnson Shoe Company baseball team Sunday afternoon and open the game against the Moline Uptown Boosters, which will be called at the Independent field at 2:30. Baseball fans of Dixon and vicinity will have an opportunity of seeing this young lady pitch the greater part of the game, opposing a strong team of which some of the players are former members of the Mississippi Valley League.

One of the members of the regular twirling staff will be sent to the mound by Manager Raymond Henley to finish the game. The visiting team is the strongest independent aggregation of the tri-state and has had a very successful season, now defending their title to the championship of Moline, Rock Island and Davenport.

What Averages Of Big Leagues Show This Week

O'DOUL PASSES FOX

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Jimmie Foxx of the Philadelphia Athletics, who held the major league batting lead so long it looked like he had a permanent title to it, finally has been crowded out of his position.

Brooklyn's big southpaw, Frank O'Doul, overtook and passed the Athletics' ace this week after his Philadelphia rivals, Don Hurst and Chuck Klein, both had taken a crack at his average. The final figures for the week, taking in yesterday's games, showed O'Doul with a .362 mark and Foxx and Klein tied for second, six points below Hurst, who topped the National League last week and trailed Foxx by only a point, was routed at .354.

Other leaders on the current National League list were:

Waner, Pittsburgh, .346; Stephenson, Chicago, .333; L. Waner, Pittsburgh, .331; O'satt, St. Louis, .331; Herman, Cincinnati, .326; Ott, New York, .322 and Watkins, St. Louis, .322.
Trading Foxx in the American League were Gehrig, New York, .350; Manush, Washington, .343; Ruth, New York, .340; Combs, New York, .335; Jolley, Boston, .333; Walker, Detroit, .330; Averill, Cleveland, .325 and Stone, Detroit, .320.

Foxx also was shorn of a few of his slugging honors during the week while Kline continued to improve his position. Jimmie retained the major league lead with 125 runs batted in and 42 homers. Chuck topped the National League in five out of seven departments in scoring with 123 runs and hits—with 175.

Klein's other first place figures were 116 runs batted in, 35 home runs and 18 stolen bases while his 15 triples left him only one behind Babe Herman of Cincinnati and Buddy Myer of Washington. Foxx held "second" with 110 runs batted in, just one behind his teammate, Al Simmons.

The inter-league pitching race continued to show some interesting figures. Monte Weaver of Washington led the American League with 18 victories and five defeats. The National League leader, Lon Warneke of Chicago, was close behind with 17 games won and five lost.

E. A. "Doc" Tayman is having some Long Bell oak flooring laid over the old floors in his house at Third and Dixon. This house will soon be ready to rent, with a nice new Long Bell oak floor that is easy to keep clean.

"What was that party at your house last night about?" "It was the tenth anniversary of my wife's thirtieth birthday."

Our prices on high grade Eastern oak are at the bottom. Be sure to get your order in before prices advance. We deliver carefully, with our own trucks and drivers.

We will never have saloons again on every corner, because the filling stations have the corners.

1932 is builders' bargain year. Prices of building material are beginning to strengthen and those who take advantage of the present low prices and build now will have considerable advantage over those who build later.

"Let me kiss those tears away," he begged. For several minutes he was busy but they continued to flow. At last he asked: "Will nothing stop them?" "No," she said. "It's hay fever; but keep up the treatment."

We have dry kindling (new lumber) cut 12 inches long. The price is only 60¢ per 100 lbs. delivered.

OLYMPICS TO CLOSE SUNDAY; GREAT SUCCESS

Attendance, Track, Field, and Swimming Records Fall

Los Angeles, Aug. 13 (AP)—The 1932 Olympics, which end their spectacular sporting whirl of 16 days with the closing ceremonies tomorrow, have far outstripped all records for gate receipts as well as performances.

Unofficial estimates today were that paid attendance would total close to 1,000,000 and gate receipts around $2,000,000 for the most brilliant athletic show ever conducted. The record-smashing track and field sports accounted for the bulk of these figures. Estimates were that 475,000 cash customers were accommodated in the big Olympic stadium in eight exciting days. Altogether day and night, over the stretch of two weeks, more than 600,000 passed through the main stadium's turnstiles.

Rowing, including an estimate for today's finals, attracted 100,000 to the marine stadium at Long Beach while the aggregate crowds at the swimming championships figured to reach 80,000 today.

U. S. Supreme

Almost from the start there has been no doubt about the all-around supremacy of the United States. The point tables, figured unofficially, show the Americans with an overwhelming lead. The U. S. scored its biggest Olympic conquest in track and field sports since the war, captured the free style wrestling championship, clinched the majority of honors in women's swimming and hoped to retain the main laurels of the Olympic regatta this afternoon.

The closing sensation, however, was the rush of the great Japanese men's swimming team to de-throne the Americans in this branch of major competition.

Japs Best Swimmers

There was little doubt Japan would carry back across the Pacific its first Olympic team champion, as the Japanese team triumphed through victories today in the finals of the international aquatic carnival.

Three individual titles remained to be decided, but there appeared a lack of American talent sufficient to turn back the insistent threat of the smiling, courageous Nipponese.

United States had the promise of an almost certain victory in the men's high platform diving, but Japan seemed assured of the 1500 meter free style and 200 meter breaststroke finals.

The turn of affairs came yesterday, as expected, when the Japanese finished one, two, three in the 100 meter backstroke final. Masaji Kiyokawa outclassed his field to win by three yards in 1 minute 8.6 seconds. He was fourth in a second short of the only Olympic record of the whole water festival which withstood attack.

U. S. Swimmers Second

The triumph increased Japan's team total to 56 points, leaving United States second with 46. America had no survivors in the final 200 meter breast stroke race. Not that it made any difference, for Reizo Koike, 16-year-old Japanese, has consistently bettered the old Olympic records and performance of Yoshiyuki Tsuruta, his teammate, and defending champion.

Clarence Crabbe, Olympic 400 meter champion, and James Crisley, University of Michigan swimmer, remained to contest Japan's bid for the 1500 meters, but two Japanese school boys, Kinsu Kitamura, 14, and Shozo Makino, 16, have been toyed with the Olympic record in the preliminaries, promising no good for America's cause.

Mickey Riley, Galitzin, spring board champion, Harold Smith, runner up and Frank Kurtz, a trio of Southern Californians, apparently led the final diving event well in hand.

In the final women's event, the 400 meter free style, it was another story, with the chances equally as certain that America's feminine team total would mount well beyond 80 points and save this title for the home forces. This race promised a national test between Helene Madison, world's record holder, and Lenore Knight, Homestead, Pa.

McReynolds Fights At Lone Tree Arena

Elwood "Kid" McReynolds, popular Dixon boxer, is scheduled to appear in the feature bout of a double windup at the Lone Tree arena at LaSalle next Tuesday evening, meeting a rugged opponent in the person of Harold Minkock of Oglesby. Referring to the match, the LaSalle Post Tribune says:

Harold Minkock, colorful Oglesby slugger, today had been announced as one of the principals in a featured bout at the Lone Tree arena next Tuesday evening, meeting his old friend, McReynolds, dusky Dixon battler, in a return match.

Minkock lost a three-round decision to McReynolds in his last time out at Lone Tree but it was reversed afterwards that he had been ill and in bed up to a short time before the fight, appearing in order not to disappoint the promoters and his fans. He is eager to make amends for his defeat with a victory and is confident he can do so.

This is not an empty confidence for some months ago he won a clean-cut decision over the Negro in three rounds in the dusky's own stamping grounds, Dixon. Dixon was eager to have the return bout, which is the rubber match at Dixon, but Minkock wants to fight McReynolds here where his own fans will be able to see him win the victory trick.

DODGERS THREAT TO PIRATES AND CUBS FOR TITLE

Carey's Boys Have Been Playing Great Guns Last Three Weeks

By HERBERT W. BARKER

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Max Carey's Brooklyn Dodgers have become a distinct and formidable contender for the National League pennant.

Triumphant in 16 of their last 20 games, the Dodgers today rested in third place, only three games back of the second place Pittsburgh Pirates and only three and a half behind the pace-setting Chicago Cubs.

What makes the Dodger streak all the more remarkable is that they have won without the benefit of consistent pitching. In their last 20 games only eight times has the starting pitcher remained around for the finish. Heimach, Clark and Mungo have hurled two complete games apiece and Vance and Thurston one each. Timely hitting, especially by Lefty O'Doul, and effective relief pitching have contributed to the spurt.

Clark Was Great

There was nothing wrong with Bill Clark's pitching yesterday, however, as the Dodgers blanked the New York Giants, 1-0. Clark gave up only four hits. His mates collected 12 but made only one run as the Giants completed six double plays and equalled the major league record. Joe Stripp's double, O'Doul's single and a long fly by Frederick scored the only run in the fifth inning.

Chuck Klein hit two home runs, his 34th and 35th of the season, and drove in five runs as the Phillies trounced the Boston Braves, 8-1. Virgil Davis and Hal Lee also hit for the circuit. Phil Collins held the Braves to six hits.

Indians Tie As

In the American League, the Cleveland Indians moved into a tie with the Philadelphia Athletics for second place by beating Detroit, 3-1, while the A's were dropping a 2-1 decision to the Boston Red Sox. Clint Brown held Detroit to six hits, three of which came in the eighth frame and accounted for the Tigers' only run. A hit batsman, Brown's double, singles by Porter and Burnett and a fumble by Johnny Stone gave the Indians all their runs off Vic Sorrell in the third.

Ivy Paul Andrews broke the Red Sox' 11-game losing streak as he held the A's to five hits and fanned eight men, Simmons three times.

DAILY HEALTH

BODY METALS

Certain biologists find much amusement in stating the money value of the substance making up the human body.

From their estimates, it would appear that the total value of the iron, salt, fat, starch and other materials that enter into the composition of the body is about 98 cents.

Despite the low monetary value of these substances, it has been found that most of them, even these present in extremely minute quantities, are essential to health.

It is common knowledge that such chemical substances as calcium, phosphorus are present in the body in fairly substantial quantities. The virtues of iron have been sung for many years.

It is only recently, however, that we have discovered the body naturally contains as essential ingredients such metals as chromium, copper, tin, silver, aluminum, cobalt, and nickel.

Other substances are found in "trace" quantities, that is in an infinitesimal degree, these including arsenic, boron, titanium, vanadium, rubidium, strontium, and lithium. Not only is the presence of these metals within the human body interesting but their effectiveness in so minute a quantity is remarkable.

Mary Swartz Rose, an authority on nutrition, points out that the presence within the body of Vitamin A in such small quantities as one part in two million will suffice to protect the body of the rat.

The minimum protective dose of Vitamin D against rickets is estimated at not more than one thousandth of a milligram of vitamin. The average body requirement of iodine amounts to 0.05 milligram daily.

Copper has a profound effect on blood regeneration, though the amount found in the body is infinitesimally small.

These findings offer an interesting insight into the body's complicated chemical operations.

UNCLE SAM'S NEW TAXES

WHERE THEY HIT YOU —AND HOW!

By ROBERT TALLEY (NEA Service Writer)

Devotees of gay night life who patronize cabarets, night clubs, roof gardens and similar entertainments are helping Uncle Sam aid his depleted federal treasury.

Though the rates are not changed by the new 1932 revenue law, such places are still taxed by the 1926 law which the 1932 law extends.

The tax is 1-1/2 cents for each 10 cents or fraction thereof of the amount paid for "admission" to public performances at such places, where the charge for "admission" is included in the price paid for refreshments or service.

To arrive at the "admission" figure, Uncle Sam fixes it arbitrarily at 20 per cent of the total cabaret or night club bill. Only in cases where such "admission" charge figures 50 cents or less is the tax omitted.

Thus, wherever the entire bill for food, service, etc., exceeds $2.50 an "admission" charge arises and there is a tax on the same. Even though this is expended on behalf of more than one person, it is not permissible to prorate the amount of the bill among the persons in the party and thus increase the exemptions, and evade the tax.

Where, therefore, a party of six persons is presented with a bill for $12, the amount of the tax is 36 cents. (Explanation: The tax is payable on the 20 per cent of the party's total bill, at the rate of 1-1/2 cents for each 10 cents or fraction thereof.)

If a fixed admission or cover charge is imposed and such charge is deemed fair and reasonable in comparison with charges made for similar performances and entertainments, then the tax applies to this alone.

The law also provides that no tax shall be collected from a guest bent merely upon eating a meal, if he leaves the place before the entertainment begins. Likewise no tax accrues against a guest in a separate or a private dining room, where he can see or hear nothing that is going on in the main dining room of the cabaret where the entertainment is in progress.

There are many other provisions, equally as complicated.

At the same time, it was announced officially in Vienna that Austrian troops were being sent to the western front to aid the hard-pressed German forces there.

Fresh French divisions resumed the offensive on the Oise river, driving the Germans back for more than two miles on a wide front.

British, American and French forces continued their gains in Picardy, capturing thousands of prisoners and great quantities of ammunition and equipment. German prisoners taken in the previous month were estimated at more than 100,000 or the equivalent of 10 German divisions.

Similar organizations were formed at Johnston City and West Frankfort recently.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MONA MORAN, receptionist in a wall street law office, is in love with BARRY TOWNSEND, rich and socially prominent, whom she met through STEVE SACCARRELLI, her childhood sweetheart.

Steve and Barry have just returned from South America where—largely by chance—Steve became associated with Barry in operating a diamond mine, once believed worthless but now valuable. Steve owns a huge diamond called "The Empress of Peru." Gangsters try to steal the stone but he outwits them. Steve has earned Mona's gratitude by befriending her errant brother, RUD, sending him to South America and giving him a job in the mine.

Mona needs $500 for hospital treatments for her invalid father. Her employer agrees to loan her the money and then makes an amazing proposal. He tells Mona a wealthy client wishes to marry her immediately with the understanding she shall occupy her own apartment, have unlimited charge accounts and do whatever she wishes for one year. At the end of that time she may become the man's wife in actuality or secure a divorce. She asks the man's name. It is told it is Barry Townsend.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXII

MONA gazed at the closed door in amazement. She stood very still, the color receding from her lovely face.

Barry Townsend wished to marry her! He had given her a year after that marriage to decide whether she wished to divorce him or whether she had been able to fall in love with him.

But she was in love with Barry now! She had been in love with him ever since she had first seen him. How could he fail to have understood? Why had he kept silent when he had the opportunity to speak to her at Twilands? What about Miss Dower? Yes, there was still Miss Dower to be reckoned with. And why should he make all this known to her through Mr. Garretson, his uncle's lawyer? Barry was ill, of course, but if that were the cause it seemed to Mona that the matter could have waited.

But what did all this matter if she was really to have Barry? The part, so clearly explained by Mr. Garretson, about the money, was unimportant. She would have married Barry without a cent! She would have been glad to go to the tropics with him, even to dig in the mines. Anything, to be with him.

As Mona returned to her desk her eyes fell on the check, still folded in her hand. That would take care of her father. Reindeering it, she scribbled a note to Dr. Dean and placed it in an envelope. As she walked to the mail chute, this business of Dad's care off her mind, she felt freer to deal with her own affairs.

Now she wished that she could see Steve! For some inexplicable reason she felt vaguely disturbed. Reaching for the telephone, she was assured by central that Steve's number gave no answer.

Well, this was something she must decide for herself. Briefly she spoke over the telephone again, this time to Mr. Garretson. She had considered the matter, she said, and was ready to accept.

"Excellent!" he replied promptly. "I can assure you that you will not regret it. You have some girl friend, I suppose, who would go with you? The ceremony is to be performed at Twilands. I'll send the car for you at about 10 tomorrow morning. You can make your arrangements and drive out together. I'll meet you there. Is that satisfactory?"

MONA gave him Lottie's address. She had decided that she would spend the night with Lottie instead of going home. For some reason Mona felt it unwise to tell her mother of the approaching marriage. If it all seemed strange to Mona, what would Ma say?

"Then Mr. Townsend expects me tomorrow?" asked Mona timidly.

Her employer laughed reassuringly. "He hardly dared expect you, but he will be very pleased when I tell him the news. And by the way, you'll want to buy a few things. I'm sending Miss Drury out with an envelope."

The envelope with which Miss Drury presently appeared contained several bills. In Mr. Garretson's precise handwriting it was further explained that Mona and her friend might use the car the next morning and that they would be expected at Twilands at about one o'clock. The ceremony was to be extremely simple because Mr. Townsend was not at all well.

Once more Mona lifted the telephone to apprise Lottie that she wished to spend the night with her. The excitement in her voice aroused debut, but how to get a man. She never met a man without wondering if she might not entice him into matrimony. Every act of her life was designed with that end in view. Scattered she may have been, innocent of constant thoughts about the opposite sex she certainly was not.

The heroine of this book has a dismal time of it. She gets one youth on the hook but has to discard him because he is too poor. Then she falls in love with an army officer; but because she indulges in a little wild "necking" with him her good name vanishes, and by the time she gets it back both he and her chances of catching an eligible young man are gone.

In the end, after a decade of worrying, she finally goes to the altar with a decrepit and stupid old fossil; but she goes gladly, because, as her mother explains, a woman's life can only begin after her marriage.

"A Good Man's Love" is a wise and ironic novel.

TODAY IS THE WORLD WAR ANNIVERSARY

CZECHOSLOVAKIA

On Aug. 13, 1918, Great Britain recognized Czechoslovakia as an independent nation. It was to be formed out of certain Austro-Hungarian states at the end of the war, and the recognition was made to encourage the operations of Czechoslovakian troops cooperating with the Allies in Russia.

At the same time, it was announced officially in Vienna that Austrian troops were being sent to the western front to aid the hard-pressed German forces there.

REUNION OF OLD SIXTH REGIMENT STARTS MONDAY

Veterans Of War With Spain Anticipate Great Meetings

Geneseo, Ill.—When the society of Sixth Illinois Volunteer Infantry meets in Geneseo Monday and Tuesday, veterans of the Spanish-American war will relive in memory the scenes and the experiences of the days of '98. Younger then by 34 years, 12 companies of blue-coated soldiers marched away to fight with Spain—and left behind their women, who now are organized as the Alice Channon auxiliary, and who will gather coincidentally with the veterans.

About 800 invitations have been sent to the survivors of the Sixth Illinois, and about half that number are expected to respond. Col. Col. D. Jack Foster of Chicago, commanding officer of the regiment, Lieut. Col. Edward Kittleson of Moline; and Major David Clark of Monmouth plan to attend. The three battle adjutants, L. R. Gaylord of Moline, James W. Clendenin of Monmouth and Joseph H. Showalter of LaMoille, also have announced their intentions of being there.

This week-end accommodations for the visiting veterans will be provided, in the form of tents to be erected in the city park. Many of the visitors will also be lodged in homes and in the hotel. The Geneseo hotel is to serve as regimental headquarters. Business sessions will be held in the Legion hall.

Organized in 1926 The society was organized in Sterling December 6, 1926, and the reunion this year will mark the seventh annual gathering. The Sixth regiment was organized long before the Spanish-American war, having descended from preceding military units in this part of the state. The group served in strike riots during the 1890's and during the three years preceding the war the regiment attended camp each year and held rifle practice. This experience gave the regiment a well-trained complement of officers and men.

When war was declared with Spain, Col. D. Jack Foster of Chicago was commanding officer; Lieut. Col. Edward Kittleson of Moline was second in command, and John J. Gains of Chicago was adjutant. Majors were Will T. Channon of Rock Island, Davis E. Clark of Monmouth and William E. Baldwin of Dixon. Twelve companies were commanded by captains. The cities where the companies were organized and located are Rock Island, Geneseo, Galesburg, Abington, Sterling, Moline, Dixon, Monmouth, LaMoille, Freeport and Galena. Company A of Rock Island was commanded by Captain William H. McConochie; Company B of Geneseo was in command of Captain John W. Reig; Captain Frank J. Clendenin was commander of Company F in Moline.

The regiment was ordered to Springfield, Ill., April 26, 1898 and was mustered into service for two years, on May 11. On May 17 the soldiers left by rail for Falls church, Va., where they remained in camp until July 5, when they went by rail to Charleston, S. C. On July 6 Companies B, F, and I, from Geneseo, Moline and Morris, embarked on the U. S. S. Columbia. Other companies were on other vessels. They went to Cuba to join the forces around Santiago and then proceeded to Porto Rico under General Miles, engaging in the slight skirmishes. Word of the signing of peace came to the regiment August 13. They sailed for the U. S. Sept. 7.

Following the war, many men were discharged, but younger men stepped in to fill the ranks, and camps were attended each year at Camp Lincoln, until 1910. The regiment then went to camp at Peoria Camp Deneen, and later to Dixon.

BOYS WILL RE BOYS, OF COURSE, AND SO WILL A FEW OLD MEN

On all sides, one hears that the "youth will be served" frequently, however, the veterans do the serving, which is the case with these five major league veterans, Ruth, and little Joe Sewell of the Yanks, "Old Moss" Stephenson of the Cubs, Sam Rice of the Senators, and Rabbit Maranville are clicking on all points for the pennant contenders they work for.

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER
New York—Just in case you should be interested in statistics, there are five men playing ball in the major leagues whose combined years of service total 84 seasons—and they are not just being kept around for ornamental purposes either.

The men, and their years of toll are Babe Ruth, Yankees, 19 years; Joe Sewell, Yankees, 13 years; Sam Rice, Senators, 18 years; Rabbit Maranville, Braves, 21, and Riggs "Old Moss" Stephenson, Cubs 12.

Their average age is 37. Sewell is 34; Maranville, 40; Ruth 38; Rice 40 and Stevie, 33, though it does seem Stevie has been around long enough to be older than that.

Ruth is hitting just under 300, 340. So is Stevie. The other gentlemen are not such murderers.

Stevie and Sewell played together on the University of Alabama team 14 years ago. Joe at short and the "Old Moss" at second. Stevie in his years at Cleveland and Chicago, has compiled an average of .341. Sewell's mark is .319, but that figure hardly does justice to his power with men on the bases.

And Ruth? Why waste the words! Last winter it was taken for granted Maranville would be released so he could catch on as a manager of a minor league club. Instead of that, he has been the inspiration of the Boston team in its hard fight to stay in the first division. He has found life easier at second than at short, and has rewarded the management with the kind of sparkling plays only the Rabbit can make.

The others are doing a pretty good job of fielding, too. Babe's uncanny judgement of the spot to which a ball is destined to ride as soon as it is hit, saves his old creaking legs. And Sam Rice can batting average of .341. Sewell's mark is .319, but that figure hardly does justice to his power with men on the bases.
